INTRODUCTION

Graffiti is the most highly visible and widespread by-product of the street gang culture. Once gang graffiti is understood, it is a valuable source of information on a gang, it's members, and even tattoo's.

The purpose of this booklet is to help extract useful information from graffiti. The first section provides some rules to follow when reading graffiti. Next, the abbreviations used by L.A. County gangs are listed alphabetically. The third part of the booklet is a list of each gang and the law enforcement jurisdiction that includes the gang's "turf." Also included in the last section are many subgroups within the large Latin gangs.

Recently, various communities have instituted graffiti removal programs. All of the data used in this booklet was gathered by reading graffiti, so removal programs had some influence on accuracy. Graffiti in those cities with removal programs was more recent, but possibly incomplete. In cities with no removal program, graffiti may represent gangs that are no longer active.

LATIN GRAFFITI

Latin street gang graffiti usually contains one or more of the following terms:

Note On Terms "Barrio" And "Varrio"

Most Latin, and some Black gangs will use these terms, most often preceding the gang name. Both terms mean essentially the same thing, neighborhood, or, gang neighborhood. Most gangs consistently use one or the other, although a few were observed to use both on different occasions. Also, the letters "B" or "V" may be substituted, especially in the gang name abbreviation. When using this booklet, these words (or letters) should be deleted before looking up the gang name or abbreviation.

EXAMPLE: VBG is listed as BG
Exceptions are those gangs that nearly always use the terms. Barrio Van Nuys and Varrio Nuevo Estrada are two examples.

One caution about abbreviations

Many gangs use abbreviations common to other gangs. Sometimes the "B" or "V" does not stand for Barrio or Varrio. For example, "VP-13" may mean Puente 13, Pacas 13, or Victoria Park 13. Further information contained in graffiti may differentiate between gangs using the same abbreviation.

Some South Los Angeles gangs place the term Varrio (or the letter "V") after the name of the city. Gangs in Compton, Watts, Downey, Paramount, and Lynwood have gang names like this. (Watts Varrio Grape, etc.)

Rifa, Rifan, Rifamos

These terms roughly translate to number one, the best, etc. They are found following the gang name, and may be represented by the letter "R." As in the terms Barrio and Varrio, Rifa does not appear in this booklet except with those gangs that use it more often than not.

SPANISH LETTER PRONUNCIATION

Latin gang name abbreviations will many times be written using the Spanish pronunciation of the letters. They must be converted to English before looking them up in this booklet.

EXAMPLE: A EME VE=AMV

A-A	H-ACHE	O-O	V-VE
B-BE	I-I	P-PE	X-EQUIS

SUBGROUPS OR "CLIQUE'S"

A Latin street gang is usually broken down into smaller subgroups, or "cliques." The subgroup may consist of those gang members of similar age, or of those that live in certain geographical areas. Listed below are the most common names for subgroups found in L.A. County.

Balasos-BLS	Ganstros-GS	Pachucos-PCHS
Bullets-BLS	Jokers-JKS	Peewees-PWS
Chicos-CS, CHS	Locos-L ^S	Pequenos-PQS
Chucos-CHS	Locotes-LTS	Santos-STS
Cutdowns-CDS	Mafiosos-MFS	Spiders-SPS
Cycos-CYS	Malditos-MDS	Termites-TMS
Cyclones-CYS	Malos-MS	Tinys-TNS
Diablos-DBLS	Midgets-MS	Vagos-VS
Dukes-DKS	Monstros-MS	Winos-WS
Enanos-ENS	Niteowls-NLS	Winitos-WTS

Subgroup names are often combinations of the above, such as MidgetLocos (MLS) or Tiny Dukes (TDS). Spanish names will also denote gender: Chicos=Male, Chicas=Female. Subgroups in this booklet are listed under each gang in the second index, beginning on page 37. Some gangs use the first initial of the subgroup in their gang name abbreviation. EXAMPLE: BHJ= BH, JOKERS.

North, South, East, And West "Sides"

The symbols $\frac{n}{s}$, $\frac{s}{s}$, $\frac{e}{s}$, and $\frac{w}{s}$ appear with gang graffiti very often. Usually preceding the gang name or abbreviation, these symbols usually mean one of the following:

1. Most often, the symbol represents which side of downtown Los Angeles the gang "turf" is located. (Downtown gangs are "Centro Side") A few of the gangs are more specific with Northeast or Southwest sides.

EXAMPLE: $\frac{w}{s}V13$ =Venice 13, a W.L.A. gang

A few of the large gangs have an eastside and a westside, 18th street has all four sides.

2. Several smaller cities within L.A. County are divided up by gangs, and the symbol distinguishes between the gangs in these cities. Baldwin Park, Pasadena, Long Beach, and Wilmington are all cities of this type.

EXAMPLE: $\frac{e}{s}BP$ vs $\frac{n}{s}BP$, two rival gangs.

3. Black gangs in South L.A. use the Harbor Freeway to separate the East and West sides.

BLACK GRAFFITI

Most Black gangs fall into two groups: Crips and Bloods. Crip gangs, as a rule, are enemies of the Blood gangs, although not all Crip gangs get along with each other. Black gang graffiti is not as uniform as Latin graffiti, but several rules do apply to most of it.

Black gang members refer to themselves as "pimps," "players," "Dogs," "homeboys," and "hustlers." (Some of these terms are also part of some gang names).

Crip gang members refer to themselves as "cuzz." "Cuzz" is interchangeable with Crip, and sometimes both appear.

Black gangs more often use the slant sign (/) for a spacer: F/T/P = FTP

Numbers 1, 2, and 3 are often replaced with the terms ace, duce (sic), and trey respectively. 52nd St. becomes Five Duce, 83rd St. becomes Eight Trey, etc. Trey is often spelled tray by the gangs, and will be spelled tray in this booklet.

Many times Black gangs will include rival gang abbreviations along with the slant sign and "K", representing killers.

EXAMPLE: BGC B/K

(Broadway Gangster Crips, Blood killers)

The letters "OG" in front of a nickname mean "Original Gangster."

SAMOAN GANGS

Only a few Samoan gangs were observed, and they used the Black style of graffiti. The "Sons of Samoa" used "Cuzz," and the "Carson Samoan Warriors" used "Blood." The "Park Village Crips" used "Samoan Style" in some of their graffiti.

WHITE GRAFFITI

Most White graffiti was written by "Stoners." The graffiti was accompanied by radio stations, band names and logos, and "Nazi" or "Biker" type slogans. Some KKK graffiti was observed. Some of the Stoner groups crossed out Latin or Black graffiti in the area, but for the most part, they did not claim to be "gangs."
